Baby Book Accent Instructions

Items you will need:
Cut away backing
Pre-quilted fabric for the cover.
Pre-quilted fabric for the inside pages.
Liquid Stitch
Rick Rack
Vinyl for picture pockets
Optional- Quilt Binding

Fabric spray adhesive

1. Hoop two pieces of cut away backing.

2. Sew out the accent design. Then cut around the design as close to the stitching as possible. Cut off the excess backing.

3. Measure and cute the pre-quilted fabric to the size of your liking. (We made ours 9.5x19, this includes a 1/4 inch inseam).
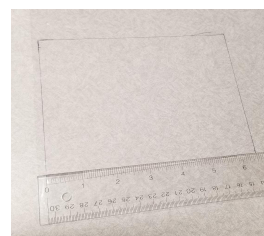

4. Finish the rough edge of your cover & pages with quilt binding. There are great quilt binding tutorials online, if you aren't sure how to do this. Follow the same instructions for your inner pages of the book. (the inner pages will need to be smaller than the cover. We made our inner page 8.5 x 15 inches.)

5. Using the Alphasizer software, stitch and create a front label for the book. This is a great way to personalize the book with the babies name too! Pin the edges under and stitch around for a finished edge. You can make it any shape you prefer. Then pin to the front of your book cover and do a simple stitch around the edge.

6. Create the pockets for the photos. Measure and cut the vinyl to the size of your picture, allowing for a 1/4 inch inseam.

7. Using 1 inch binding. Press in half and place on the edge of vinyl, stitch to the vinyl. Do this for all four sides. Now stitch rick rack to the edge that you want for the top of the photo pocket. (This side will not be stitched to the book page, allowing a picture to be slid in and out with ease.)

8. Pin the pocket in place where you want it on the book page. At this step, also pin rick rack on the remaining three sides. Stitch through the rick rack and onto the book page. Remember to leave one side open to insert the picture!

9. Stitch down the center of the book, top to bottom, to make the book bind. The more pages you have in the center, the wider the book binding needs to be. Do this by adding more stitch lines. See the example below.

10. Using liquid stitch, place and glue the embroidery accents to the pages. (The pieces should be cut before gluing. They will have a raw cut edge) It helps to lay a heavy book on top while the glue dries, to keep the accents flat.

11. Your baby book with accents is now complete!
